

AVIATION & AEROSPACE INSURANCE

MHG designs the key aviation insurance coverage needed to protect FBOs and the aircraft in their care and custody. What's in your risk management plan?

Companies operating in the aerospace and aviation industry are faced with a number of concerns. Managing and protecting property, employees and business operations can be a complicated and stressful activity. The consequences due to error or lapses in aviation insurance coverage can ultimately cause financial stress.

As well, not accessing specialists in risk management can lead to over-expenditure and wasteful spending on a poorly designed policy. It's important that you discuss your unique situation with a broker who understands the inner workings of the industry and who also has a professional relationship with insurers.
